In the early stage, by the end of the rollout nobody will miss out!

![Red Cross] The NBN will connect patients with doctors, specialists and nurses regardless of location.

![Briefcase] Faster and more reliable business with clients and colleagues across the globe.

![Books] Homes will become virtual classrooms, connecting teachers and students around the world.

![Circuit Board] Local companies are helping to deliver the NBN, creating jobs and opportunities.

Skilled for the Future

Since the Federal Labor Government was elected, 760,000 new jobs have been created. Providing young people with skills and training in modern facilities has been an important part of our Skills and Employment agenda.

Recently, the Newcastle Community Trade Training Centre opened. It will provide industry relevant training in construction, engineering and hospitality. The $12 million Centre spans across Callaghan College’s three campuses at Jesmond, Waratah and Wallsend, the Hunter School of the Performing Arts, Kotara, Lambton, Merewether and Newcastle High Schools.

This special program has invested almost $30 million in total to 14 schools across Newcastle. Other schools to benefit from Trade Training Centres include Hunter Christian School, Hunter River High School, Francis Greenway High School, St Francis Xavier’s College, San Clemente High School and St Pius X High School.

Congratulations to everyone involved for this wonderful investment into our young students and their employment future.

At the Newcastle Community Trade Training Centre opening.